Story - From her death registration and probate records, we know that Ann was a spinster of Boston Spa, Yorkshire, born in 1844 and that she died at Park Terrace, Humshaugh on Tyne. The probate document names Ridley Elliott as one of the executors to her will. Census documents show that Mr Elliott was a boot and shoemaker of 1 Park Terrace, Humshaugh and his marriage record names his bride as Elizabeth Hubie, also a native of the York area. Elizabeth was the younger sister of Ann, the latter being a visitor to the Elliott house, when she died. There are no records to show how long she had been staying there.
